Farmingville, NY - On August 5, Councilwoman Valerie M. Cartright and Suffolk County Legislator Sarah Anker attended the Making Strides Against Breast Cancer Kickoff Breakfast at the Atlantis Marine World Aquarium in Riverhead. Making Strides walks raise funds for breast cancer research, education initiatives that help reduce the risk of breast cancer, and support services for those affected by the disease.

"I appreciate the hard work of those involved with Making Strides and will do all I can to support them," stated Councilwoman Cartright. "I encourage everyone to participate in walks this October. When the community comes together for such an important goal we can truly make a difference."
